

Jakob Harker

President, InnovaTech

Jakob serves as the President of InnovaTech, leading strategic vision, innovation, and execution for one of the industry's most forward-thinking construction technology companies. He brings extensive field experience, from welder to General Superintendent to Director of Preconstruction, making him uniquely equipped to drive practical innovation that elevates safety, quality, and efficiency. Known for his humility, solution-oriented mindset, and commitment to team success, Jakob continues to foster a culture of trust, learning, and operational excellence across the organization.